BACKGROUND INFORMATION:

Zonta International is a service organization whose members are executive business or professional women. Originally created November 8, 1919 in Buffalo, New York under the name "Confederation of Zonta Clubs," the organization serves the educational, health, cultural, and civic needs of local communities. Currently Zonta chapters exist worldwide. The name "Zonta" is the derivative of the Sioux Indian word meaning "honest and trustworthy." The name was officially changed to Zonta International in 1930. The Zonta Club of Dallas was the first in Texas (and the South) and a major spearhead for other Texas chapters.

Zonta International has always had in its membership women who are leaders and pioneers. Probably the most well known Zontian is pilot Amelia Earhart. The club continues to sponsor a scholarship fund in her name for graduate study in aerospace engineering established at the time of her disappearance. In Dallas the membership also includes women who are well known pioneers. For example, Judge Sarah T. Hughes, best known as the person who administered the oath of office to Lyndon Johnson in 1963, was a president of Zonta Club of Dallas. Dallas Zontians also were "firsts": Sarah Menezes was the first Assistant U. S. District Attorney in Texas; Hattie L. Heneberg was appointed Associate Justice of the first State Supreme Court composed entirely of women in 1925 and later Assistant Attorney General in Texas; and Mary Ethel Welborn in 1925 became the first woman to receive a Texas certificate as a Certified Public Accountant, to name only three of many.

The first Zonta Club of Dallas was organized in 1924 with twenty-two members. For the first several years the club struggled to stay in existence. In 1927 a reorganization took place resulting in a distinctly business/ professional roster of twenty-one members. The original group of 1924 had a more artistic membership. With a strong base firmly established in 1927, Zonta joined Dallas Federation of Women's Clubs. From this point forward Zonta Club of Dallas has been a strong service organization on local, regional, national, and international levels.

Zonta International membership is limited to one representative from field or business. By 1972 membership in Dallas had grown almost too large. In order to keep growing and still be manageable, as well as to allow for another representative from professions already in Zonta, a second chapter was formed. Dallas now has Zonta Club of Dallas I and II. This collection represents Zonta I, although the formation of Zonta II is contained in materials in Box 17, Folder 6.

Several examples of programs Zonta is involved in include the Children's Development Center, U.N.I.C.E.F. , G.R.O.W., and water development in Sri Lanka. Through fund-raisers and other volunteer activities, these women contribute heavily to the health and standards in our society. The club through scholarships and educational activities is involved in increasing the status, knowledge, and career opportunities for women.

SCOPE AND CONTENT:

This collection contains materials pertaining to the formation and general activities of Zonta Club of Dallas I. The collection is divided into several parts: historical/ general information on Dallas, materials on regional division known as District X and thirdly, Zonta International as a whole.

Part I is the bulk of the collection. Included are historical records, general information on Zonta, minutes, and financial records. Photographs from meetings and special events are identified where possible. The collection contains an extensive run of these. Rosters, committee memberships, and clippings also give a representation of who is involved and the development of the organization.

The Zonta Club of Dallas is in District X of Zonta International. Most of the material on the regional level is convention/ conference related. Some correspondence is also available. The International material is also convention items and copies of the Zontian, the magazine of Zonta International.

This collection is one of the largest public collections of Zonta materials and is continuing to grow. With the aid of Dr. Ruth Guy new items will be added as they are found or created. The materials were received in 1984 and formally presented to the Dallas Public Library on July 11, 1986, after the main core was processed by Dr. Guy.
